NOTES

If the Irish Laser Association (ILA) requests additional places it may be held to be financially liable from the time that a place is offered until that place is either refused or paid for by the Applicant (if a place is not offered there is no liability). In the past a "Guarantee" Cheque was required before a place would be requested but, as the use of cheques by Banks has become rarer, that system has proved to be quite demanding for everyone. The following new system of Indemnity Certificates is, therefore, being trialled for 2017.

1. Normal Applications

- (a) If the number of Applicants for a Laser World or European Event exceeds the number of places allocated to Ireland for that Event places will be awarded to those Applicants who are ranked higher on the ILA's Ranking Ladder (irrespective of the order in which place applications have been made to ILCA or EurILCA, as appropriate). Any Applicants who then find themselves beyond the allocation will be required to complete an Indemnity Certificate.
- (b) No extra place for an Applicant will be requested until an Indemnity Certificate has been received from (or on behalf of) that Applicant. Extra places will be requested in the order in which Indemnity Certificates are received or the order of the Ranking Ladder if two or more are received at the same time.

2. Late Applications

Once the period for Normal Applications has passed all unallocated District places are withdrawn and made available to all Districts. It is then for those Districts which wish to have extra places at the event to request them. The provisions of paragraph 1(b) will apply to all of those making Late Applications.

3. Penalty

If the ILA becomes financially liable for a place that was specifically requested for a particular sailor that sailor will be requested to fully reimburse the ILA. Failure to do so promptly will result in that sailor's points being removed from the ILA's Ranking Ladder. The consequence of this action will be that it will become virtually impossible for that sailor to qualify for an event during, at the very least, the following year.
